THE YEAR IN BRIEF

- OGA took part in the Bridge for Billions incubation program and began building a more sustainable model.
- We registered the OGA trademark in the European Union, supported by the EUIPO SME Fund.
- We opened the association's bank account and received our first donations from partner organizations.
- We started the process of setting up OGA Brasil, which we hope will be the first of several regional chapters.

VOLUNTEER AND PRO BONO WORK

Beyond direct expenses, OGA and Language for Justice were built with around 2,860 hours of volunteer and pro bono work since our founding, in strategy, communications, content in three languages, grant writing, program design, interpreting and partnerships. At conservative European market rates, this work is estimated at €145,900. Estimate prepared for the Bridge for Billions program; methodology available upon request.

NOTES

- Partial report, from January to October 2026.
- All expenses were paid by the founder with her own resources. The founder also covers indirect costs, such as internet, phone and workspace, which are not included in this report.
- Donations received are held in the association's account and have not been used for now.
- Some amounts paid in other currencies are approximate conversions to euros.
